A) One possible version:

Activity Survey

Here are the results of the student activity survey at Red Star Middle School. Some students use the Internet once or twice a week. No students use the Internet every day. As for the housework, some students do it every day and some students do it once or twice a week. As for exercise, some students exercise every day. But most students exercise once or twice a week. The results of "read English books" are interesting. Most students read English books every day. Some students read English books once or twice a week.

B) One possible version:

Safety is very important for us. As middle school students, we must take good care of ourselves.

First, we must obey the traffic rules when we go out. Don't cross the street when the traffic lights are red. Keep to the right in the street. Second, we should eat healthy food. Don't eat junk food. Eat more fruit and vegetables. Eat less meat. Besides, don't hurt ourselves while we're playing. It's dangerous to swim in the river alone, so don't go to the river without permission.

In a word, it's important to remember these above for us all.

B) 请听下面两段长对话,根据你所听到的对话内容,选择能回答所提问题的最佳选项。每段对话读两遍。

听第一段对话,回答第 11—12 小题。

- W: Do you like summer holiday?
M: Yes, I like it very much.
W: What do you usually do in your summer holiday?
M: I used to be interested in playing computer games, but now I prefer swimming.
W: Who taught you how to swim?
M: My PE teacher.

听第二段对话,回答第 13—15 小题。

- M: Hi, Linda. You look very tired today. What's the matter?
W: Hi, Jack. I didn't sleep very well. I saw a UFO in my dream last night.
M: Really? What were you doing when you saw it?

W: I was watering flowers.

M: Were you sure it was a UFO?

W: Of course. I saw it very clearly. It looked like a plate.

M: Oh, how I wish to see it!

III. 短文理解

请听短文,根据其内容完成下面的表格,每空不超过三个词。短文读两遍。

Hi, everyone! Welcome to our park. When you're in the park, please obey the park rules. You must take good care of the plants. Don't pick flowers. Don't smoke. It's too dangerous. Don't spit. Keep the park clean. No parking in the park. But you can put your car in front of the park. Look after your kids and keep yourself safe. If you need any help, please let me know. Our phone number is 8664205. I'm glad to help you. Have a good time here!

书面表达(共两大题,计 25 分)

A) One possible version:

Boys and girls,

Most of us paid little attention to protecting our eyes. So the result of the report isn't very good. Two thirds of the students spend too much time watching TV, playing computer games so that their eyes are too tired. A quarter of the students are reading while lying in bed or walking. And a few read books in strong light or dark light.

With the time passing on, our eyes have become poorer and poorer. We'll regret if we become shortsighted. It's important for us to form a good reading habit. Let's take care of our eyes!

B) One possible version:

How to relax after the exam

It's necessary to relax ourselves after the exam. We can take part in many kinds of activities. First of all, I can go to the cinema or listen to music because it makes me relaxed soon. Also, joining a sports club is a good idea. It can keep me healthy. For example, playing a basketball game in the afternoon may relax me. Above all, we should plan our time reasonably and live a regular life. I hope all of us can have a great time after the exam.

III. 短文理解

请听短文, 根据其内容完成下面表格。每空一词。短文读两遍。

Last weekend, I went to my first tea party. The tea party was at Aunt Jenny's home. She made different cakes, such as English cakes, American cakes and chocolate cakes. All of them were delicious! I liked chocolate cakes best. There was coffee and Earl Grey tea at the tea party. My mum said that I was too young for coffee, so I tried Earl Grey tea. As I had never tried Earl Grey tea before, I didn't know how to make it. I put a half cup of milk into my tea and tasted it. It was bad! Aunt Jenny looked into my cup and told me that I put too much milk into my tea. She made me another cup of Earl Grey tea, so I could go on enjoying my first tea party.

B) One possible version:

Views on learning English differ from person to person. Some think it is necessary to learn English while others consider English useless. In my opinion, English is still one of the most important subjects. I like it very much. Here are reasons why I like English best.

Firstly, English is one of the most widely used languages in the world. Nearly all information on the Internet is in English. Secondly, our country need to learn modern technology in order to catch up with developed countries. Thirdly, in the English advertisement for a well-paid job, people who can speak fluent English have an advantage over those who can't.

For all these reasons we should not only learn English but master it.

W: I had to drive slowly because of the heavy rain.
7. W: Oh, dear! I'd almost forgotten your birthday. When is it?
M: Well, the day after April Fool's Day. Easy to remember, isn't it?
8. M: I say, Susan. Do you want to go out for a pizza?
W: How about Chinese food? I don't like Italian food much.
9. W: Excuse me, sir. I'm going to send this box to London. How much must I pay if I post it?
M: Let me see. It's one pound fifty.
10. W: Where are my glasses? I put them on my desk but now I can't find them.
M: I'm sorry I broke them just now. Here is the money. Please buy a new pair for yourself.

B) Listen to the following two long dialogues and choose the best answer to each question. Each dialogue will be read TWICE.

Dialogue A

- M: Hello, is that Lucy? This is Mr Smith.
W: Hello, Mr Smith. How are you?
M: I am fine, thank you. I was wondering if you would like to do some babysitting for us.
W: Well, which evening would you like me to babysit? I'll have classes on this Saturday and Sunday evenings.
M: It's Friday, March 11th.
W: OK. I can do it.

M: That's good. Could you come up at seven o'clock? We'll be going out then, because the dinner starts at 7:30.

W: No problem. See you on Friday.

M: See you, Lucy.

Dialogue B

M: May I help you?

W: Yes, my cousin is graduating from college next week and I'd like to get him a nice present.

M: What price gift are you interested in? We'll need to know that before looking for it.

W: Well, I usually spend about twenty dollars on a gift. Do you have anything nice for that price?

M: How about a pen or pencil?

W: No. His mother gave him that for his birthday last year.

M: Well, then, would you like a football?

W: No. He doesn't like playing football very much.

M: Then you could get him a desk lamp.

W: That's a good idea.

A) One possible version:

Advice for foreign visitors to China

China is famous for its warmth, and most visitors have no difficulty in adapting to local customs. The following pieces of advice are mostly common sense, but to avoid giving offence, foreign visitors may find them useful.

1. When addressing Chinese people, it's polite to use their full names or their family names.
2. It's useful to shake hands when you're introduced to a person for the first time.
3. If you're invited to someone's home for the first time, you should bring some small presents to show your respect.

B) One possible version:

In my opinion, using an ordinary English-Chinese dictionary is more helpful to our English study for the following reasons. Firstly, being a student of studying English, the ability to use an ordinary English-Chinese dictionary is a must. Secondly, an ordinary English-Chinese dictionary offers us more English explanations and more examples so that it's more helpful for us to learn new words and to compare similar words. Thirdly, an ordinary English-Chinese dictionary costs much less than an electronic dictionary. Last but not least, an ordinary English-Chinese dictionary doesn't have functions such as games which will cause a waste of time to some students.

As a conclusion, I hope more students can put away their electronic dictionaries and turn to English-Chinese dictionaries for help.

1. OK, I mean, I don't like the film.
2. You can have this camera for $30.
3. It's a beautiful evening, Jason. Why don't we go out for a walk?
4. The book is sold out in almost every bookstore. Would you like to read mine?
5. Hi, Ada. I tried to call you last week but there was no answer. How are you?

Part II. Dialogues

A) Listen to the following mini-dialogues, and choose the best answer to each question. Each dialogue will be read ONLY ONCE.

6. W: What can I do for you, Sir?
M: I'm going to fly to Los Angeles. Will you arrange for my ticket?
7. M: This game is so exciting. What's the time?
W: It's 3:40. They've only got 20 minutes before it's finished.
8. W: Have you taken my keys out of my handbag?
M: No. They might be with your gloves on top of your library books in the hall.
W: Well, they aren't now. What have I done with them?
9. M: Joanna, did you hear that the Browns sold their house and were moving to Arizona?
W: Yes, and the man who bought the house is a doctor from Philadelphia.
M: A doctor? That's great.
10. W: The ski season starts next weekend. Would you like to go to the mountains?
M: Next weekend I'll be at my brother's in Florida. But what about the following weekend?
W: That sounds fine. I'll give you a call and arrange things.

B) Listen to the following long dialogue, and choose the best answer to each question. The dialogue will be read TWICE.

- M: Shopping's hard work, Lily, isn't it?
W: True, Tony. I'm glad it's over.
M: Do you want to go home now?
W: Yes, I think I'll take the things we bought home.
M: OK. I'll go to the office. I've got lots of work to do. I'll come home later, straight from the office.
W: OK. I'd better hurry. My brother's waiting at the house to help carry the television in.
M: Good. I hope he'll still be there when I get home — I haven't seen your brother for ages. No, wait. I forgot to tell you that I would be late home tonight, because I've got a meeting at 5 o'clock.
W: When do you think it will end?

M: I'm not sure. Still, I should be home by eight. If I think I'll be later than 8 o'clock, I'll call you.

W: OK. It's nice now that your office is in City Square. You don't have to travel very far at all.

M: I certainly appreciate it! And taxi drivers always know where City Square is, too. By the way, are you going to watch the TV programme on TV tonight?

W: What did you say? People are Funny? Of course I am. I'll tell you what happened when you get home. I need something to laugh at.

M: So do I. OK. I'd better go now. Take care. I'll see you later. Bye-bye.

W: See you later. Bye-bye.

Part III. Passage

Listen to the following passage, and fill in the blanks according to the passage you have heard with NO MORE THAN THREE WORDS. The passage will be read TWICE.

Today I'd like to tell you something about travelling by bike in London. If you visit London, you'll see a lot of buses and cars, and also a lot of bikes. It's very cheap and quick to use a bike. And if you take a bus, you often have to wait for half an hour or so. What's more, the buses are very slow. The underground is quick but very expensive and often crowded.

I used to travel to work by bus, and I often arrived at work late. Then a friend of mine suggested we go to work together by bike. I followed him. Although we went slowly, we always arrived on time. Taking a bus took 50 minutes, while riding a bike only took half an hour. Now I love riding my bike to work. In this way, I've saved a little more money now, and I feel much better.

书面表达(共两大题,计 25 分)

A) One possible version:

The person who has taught me most about life is my grandmother.

She always looked really good for her age. She had grey hair and a big round face. She was always smiling. She wasn't very tall and she was a little heavy.

She was such a considerate person. She did everything she could to make me feel at home every time I visited her during my vacations. She was also really imaginative and spent hours telling me stories that she had made up. I'm sure it is because of her that I like writing.

B) One possible version:

It would be much better if young people thought about things before they decided to spend their money. Of course they can spend some of their money on some fashionable clothes and on going out, but some of it could also be spent on good books and music which would last for a long time. For instance, I spend most of my money on my hobby, photography. It's expensive but it gives me pleasure.

Perhaps young people should think twice before they go to the shops on Saturdays. Are they buying something that is of good quality and that they really like? Or are they just copying friends and fashions? They should start thinking for themselves. Think more and spend less.

3. I'd prefer something hot, if that's OK. Could I have some tea?
4. If I decide to take this apartment, when can I move in?
5. I'm trying to study. Could you turn the music down, please?

Part II. Dialogues

A) Listen to the following mini-dialogues and choose the best answer to each question. Each dialogue will be read ONLY ONCE.

6. M: Has George returned from France yet?

W: Yes, but he was only there for three days. Now his company has sent him to Canada.

7. M: I often go to see my parents by plane. How about you?

W: I often take a taxi because they don't live far away from me.

8. W: Which is more difficult to learn, Chinese or English?

M: For me, math is the most difficult to learn.

9. W: Excuse me. Did you say that these jackets were fifteen dollars?

M: No, I said fifty dollars. Look, here's the price.

10. M: Have you decided where you're going to live when you get married?

W: I would like to live in the city, but my boyfriend wants a house in the suburbs, which would be a long way from my office.

B) Listen to the following long dialogue and choose the best answer to each question. The dialogue will be read TWICE.

M: Tom speaking.

W: Hello, Tom. It's Ann. I've been wondering how the job is going. Tell me about your first week.

M: Hm. It wasn't easy.

W: Wasn't it? Why?

M: On Monday and Tuesday, I lifted a lot of heavy boxes, and on Wednesday, I put hundreds of bottles, tins and packets on the shelves.

W: Was it boring?

M: Yes, very boring, and I dropped a lot of boxes.

W: Ugh. What a mess!

M: On Thursday, I was two hours late and the manager was really angry. Then I put price labels on bottles, tins and packets.

W: What about Friday and today?

M: I didn't do very much. I was very tired. The supermarket was open till 9:00 pm. They wanted me to work overtime, but I came home at six.

W: I see. Have you got the job?

M: I don't know. I have to see the manager tomorrow.

W: Well, you'd better get up early. Good luck.

Part III. Passage

Listen to the following passage, and fill in the blanks according to the passage you have heard with NO MORE THAN THREE WORDS. The passage will be read TWICE.

OK. Welcome, everybody. We're lucky with the weather today. It's unusual for it to be so hot here at this time of the year — we're more used to rain which's why everything's so green. Now Cork is Ireland's second city and 420,000 people live here. That's much smaller than our capital Dublin, which has a population of 1,058,000. The city centre is actually on an island surrounded by the river. When people arrive in the city by car, they often get very confused by all the bridges they keep crossing as they go from one part of the city to another.

As you walk down St Patrick Street, you'll see on one side old buildings going back to the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. On the other side are mainly modern offices and shops. After that, we'll visit the famous Covered Food Market. If you want to stop and buy something, I suggest the bread, which they bake several times a day, or some fresh fruit. In the Grand Parade we'll go past some very pretty buildings and we'll stop in the café in the Art Gallery for a drink. This is an excellent place to have lunch if you want to come back another day. Now, if you're ready we'll set off.
