(A) One possible version:

Dear Peter,

I'm very glad that you'll come to China as an exchange student. I know it isn't easy to learn a foreign language, but I have some ideas that may help you.

Firstly, you should listen to the teacher carefully in class. Secondly, try to catch every chance to practise speaking Chinese, both in and out of class. Then try to listen and read more in Chinese. Don't be afraid of making mistakes. You should be confident in yourself and don't give up whenever you meet difficulty.

Best wishes and I'm looking forward to meeting you in China.

Yours,

Yang Li

(B) One possible version:

My favourite invention

Of all the modern inventions, the laptop is my favourite one. I think it's the most amazing invention. Laptops are light and small. They're easy to carry. With a laptop, we can work, study and entertain ourselves everywhere. A laptop can get onto the Internet so that we can get the latest information whenever we want. Using a laptop, I can keep in touch with my friends and family through emails or QQ at any time in any place. I think in the future everybody will have his or her own laptop.
